

A student is allowed to register extra hours at a rate that doesn't exceed 21 credit hours provided that the following 2 conditions are met:

- The accumulative average of the student is not less than 84%.
- That the graduation of the student depends upon the registration of 21 credit hours.

In his/her graduation semester, a student is allowed to register any number of credit hours without taking into account the maximum academic load, but considering the provisions above.
